

Dear : Grownups,

Even though school is out, we can still have fun reading all summer long! This year, we're going on a special reading adventure with Flat Stanley. The book recounts the adventures of Stanley Lambchop after he is squashed flat by a bulletin board while sleeping. He is otherwise uninjured, and decides to make the best of being flat. Your child will join Flat Stanley on adventures by choosing three books to read and complete questions in a short project. Please see attached documents.

Warmly,
Second Grade
Teachers
FCS

Here's what to do:

1. Read 3 Flat Stanley stories over the summer. Choose from this list:
 - a. Flat Stanley at Bat
 - b. Flat Stanley and the Firehouse
 - c. Flat Stanley Goes Camping
 - d. Flat Stanley and the Lost Treasure
 - e. Flat Stanley and the Bees

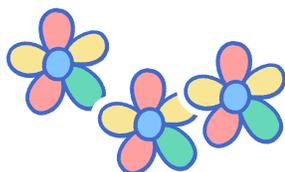

2. Afterwards, help your child complete journal pages in the attached Story Journal.

3. After you have completed the questions based on the 3 books read, it is now time for you to take him on an adventure of your own.

4. Bring the journal back to school in August to celebrate your child's reading success!

Have fun reading and going on adventures with Flat Stanley! Have a wonderful summer!

Story Journal

Title #1: _____

Answer the following questions in proper sentence structure. Don't forget your capital letters and punctuation marks.

Where did Flat Stanley go in this book?

How did he get there?

What was the problem in the story?

How did he help solve the problem?

Did you like or dislike the book? Why?

My favorite part (draw and label):

Story Journal

Title #1: _____

Answer the following questions in proper sentence structure. Don't forget your capital letters and punctuation marks.

Where did Flat Stanley go in this book?

How did he get there?

What was the problem in the story?

How did he help solve the problem?

Did you like or dislike the book? Why?

My favorite part (draw and label):

Story Journal

Title #1: _____

Answer the following questions in proper sentence structure. Don't forget your capital letters and punctuation marks.

Where did Flat Stanley go in this book?

How did he get there?

What was the problem in the story?

How did he help solve the problem?

Did you like or dislike the book? Why?

My favorite part (draw and label):

Story Journal

Your Own Title: _____

Now you will take Flat Stanley somewhere this summer. Ideas: library, park, vacation, grandma's house, etc. Then answer the following questions in proper sentence structure. Don't forget your capital letters and punctuation marks.

Where did you take Flat Stanley?

How did he get there?

Tell about one thing you and Flat Stanley did on this adventure?

Who did Flat Stanley meet on this adventure?

Did Flat Stanley enjoy this adventure with you? Why?

Take a photograph of you and Flat Stanley on your own adventure together and tape or glue it in this box. :

A large rectangular box with a dotted border, intended for a photograph of the student and Flat Stanley.

Color Flat Stanley and cut him out. Then take him on an adventure with you. Don't forget to write about what you did together. Some trip ideas could be going on a picnic, visit the library or museum, on a family vacation, or to visit the grandparents.

